

The decision by Sinclair Broadcasting to force their stations to air the anti Kerry Documentary just before the election is frightening. A danger of media consolidation?

Sinclair is obligated by law to serve the public interest since it uses the public airwaves free of charge. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

My preference would be to see news about lives of people in communities and the people living there.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Please strongly consider this matter.
Thank you.
